

TMR Access for Artists Fellowship Application

Would you be interested in sharing your project on The Missouri Review's website as a featured TMR Access for Artists Fellowship recipient? (Please note that while we would love to share your work with your consent, we respect your privacy. Your answer will not affect any decision regarding the fellowship).

Yes, I grant permission to the Missouri Review:

(a) to post/host the above-named and described audio project, as a TMR Access for Artists Fellowship project, on its website, www.missourireview.com, and on the Missouri Review's social media sites.

(b) to post/host my audio project in its original context, as the recipient of the TMR Access for Artists Fellowship, for publicity and promotion of the Missouri Review.

(c) the nonexclusive right to use the above-named and described audio project (or excerpts from it) to promote and publicize TMR including the right to use my name, image, likeness, and biographical data in such promotions.

No, I do NOT grant permission to the Missouri Review to use my audio project, my name, image, likeness, and biographical data for any of the above-listed purposes.

Artist Signature: _____ Date: _____

Fellowship statement

As a magazine committed to finding emerging writers and artists, The Missouri Review has established the TMR Access for Artists Fellowship to provide access to artists for whom financial barriers may prevent or discourage their entry into the Miller Audio Prize. In 200-300 words, please let us know how the TMR Access for Artists Fellowship would allow you to further your art and/or progress as an artist. (Attach additional sheets if necessary.)
